FOREWORD

Don't let us interfere with your good times, your grill-sitting, your jitter-bugging, or your working, either; but this book is dedicated to You. Don't get overly serious — just be reminded that your life can begin in '40, if you want it to. Why not think about that while you're working and playing?

After '40 will you remember: Spring's tracery of sunlight and shadow along the drive in front of McMicken—the snow-covered walk to the Student Union—that warm short-cut through Teachers' College, and the view of the campus through its doors—the Quadrangle in summer—in winter the tower of the Union outlined against all kinds of skies?

We've reminded you that the old campus has its beautiful spots, its views worth gazing at as you passed by. Cherish these familiar sights, now so commonplace to you, for some day, when you no longer belong to college life, you will fondly remember them.

LIFE BEGINS IN FORTY

A Message from the President

I like the spirit conveyed in the transposed use of "Life Begins in Forty" as the theme for the 1940 CINCINNATIAN. It makes me think of Robert Bridges' fine lines:

"Howso'er man hug his care
The best of his art is gay."

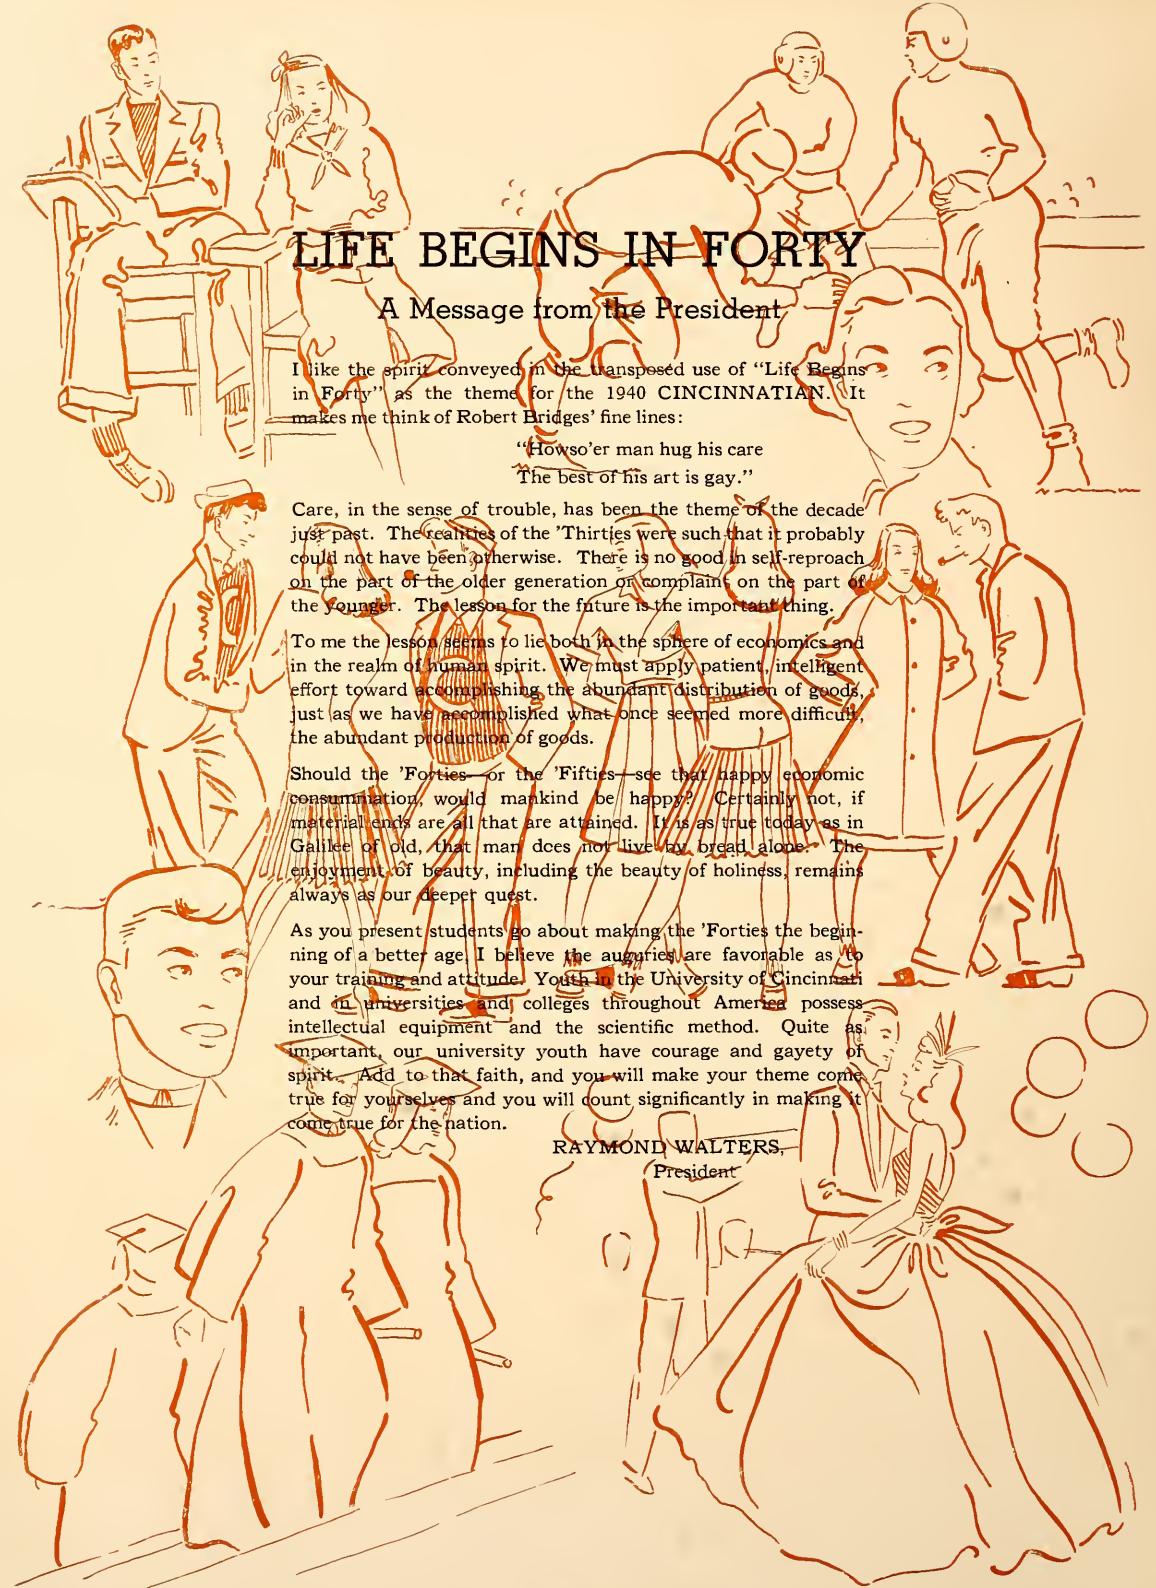

Care, in the sense of trouble, has been the theme of the decade just past. The realities of the Thirties were such that it probably could not have been otherwise. There is no good in self-reproach on the part of the older generation or complaint on the part of the younger. The lesson for the future is the important thing.

To me the lesson seems to lie both in the sphere of economics and in the realm of human spirit. We must apply patient, intelligent effort toward accomplishing the abundant distribution of goods, just as we have accomplished what once seemed more difficult, the abundant production of goods.

Should the 'Forties—or the 'Fifties—see that happy economic consummation, would mankind be happy? Certainly not, if material ends are all that are attained. It is as true today as in Galilee of old, that man does not live by bread alone. The enjoyment of beauty, including the beauty of holiness, remains always as our deeper quest.

As you present students go about making the 'Forties the beginning of a better age, I believe the auguries are favorable as to your training and attitude. Youth in the University of Cincinnati and in universities and colleges throughout America possess intellectual equipment and the scientific method. Quite as important, our university youth have courage and gayety of spirit. Add to that faith, and you will make your theme come true for yourselves and you will doubt significantly in making it come true for the nation.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

These are the members of the Board of Directors of the University. John J. Rowe, Harvard '07, former President of the First National Bank, and the Fifth-Third Union Trust Company, is also a trustee of the Cincinnati Institute of Fine Arts. He is, naturally, chairman of the Committee on Finance of the Board. Dr. William M. Doughty, U. C. '06, is an active alum of the University and the College of Medicine. Beside his service on the Board, Dr. Doughty is an X-ray specialist and Professor of Radiology in the College of Medicine, as well as an officer of the Cincinnati Academy of Medicine. Another graduate of U. C. is Walter F. Murray, who attended Liberal Arts and the College of Law. He has attained prominence in his field as a patent attorney. Still another product of the College of Law is Frank F. Dinsmore, U. C. '91. He, too, has established himself in Cincinnati as a lawyer of note. Since 1924 he has been vice chairman of the Board of Directors. George H. Warrington, chairman of the Board since 1931, is a graduate of Yale '95 and of U. C.'s College of Law in 1899. Since his entrance into Cincinnati life, Mr. Warrington has associated himself with many cultural organizations such as the Music Hall Association, the Conservatory of Music, and the Cincinnati Art Museum. Herbert G. French, another U. C. man, Vice President of the Procter and Gamble Company, is prominent in the city's business and cultural life. He aids in supporting the Symphony Orchestra and the Art Museum. The mayor's recommendation of Albert P. Strietmann was that "he has done many things for the University in such an unostentatious way as to show that his interest is real and not

● Dr. Raymond Walters came to the University of Cincinnati in September of 1932 to succeed Dr. Herman Schneider as President. A graduate of Lehigh University, with experience as professor and dean at Swarthmore, Dr. Walters was admirably fitted for his post, for he was interested in the administrative side of university life. He is the possessor of a wide reputation as an authority on the work, standing, and personnel of American colleges and universities, and has been associated with the American Council of Education, and the educational journal, "School and Society." As inspector of institutions for the Association of American Universities, Dr. Walters has travelled extensively throughout the country. Besides his work, President Walters has two especial hobbies: he is a student of music, well known for his interest in the music of Bach, and his study of the American music of Stephen Collins Foster.

DANIEL LAURENCE

Vice President

With a background of 40 years with the University, Daniel L. Laurence needs little introduction to students or alumni. Those years were spent as undergraduate, as business manager, and finally as Vice President in charge of business administration. Through the years, Mr. Laurence has managed to take an active part in University affairs. He still works for his fraternity, Sigma Chi. When he is queried about his hobbies, Mr. Laurence replies that he has none, but John De Camp, the publicity director of U. C., says: "His hobby is one of continual service to the end that his Alma Mater may enhance its position as one of the major universities of the country."

ARTHUR S. POSTLE

Dean of Men

KATHERINE INGLE

Dean of Women

We present two of the better known people on the campus, the deans. Their duty is to listen to the complaints of students varying from grades to dates. Both work arduously to better the relations between students and faculty; both spend many hours each year in conference with students who need some aid besides that obtainable in the class room.

Dean Arthur Postle, a man who is absolutely sincere in his desire to be helpful, is never too busy to listen to those who seek him. Whether his counsel is sought for a job or just for advice, his charming manner and frankness have made him a students' favorite.

Dean Katherine Ingle, a graduate of the University, and a daughter of former President Dabney, has made herself known to most girls. She has a reputation for cordiality, fearlessness and individuality.

COLLEGE OF LIBERAL ARTS

GEORGE B. BARBOUR

Dean

George B. Barbour, a gentleman and a scholar, is Dean of Liberal Arts. He is a geologist by specialization, and an intellectual by all accounts. Dean Barbour has a cosmopolitan background, for he was educated in Scotland, England, and the United States, and taught for a period of time in several leading Chinese universities. The Dean has a wide diversity of interests, attends practically all the University functions, and keeps open house for the students. He is genuinely interested in students as individuals, and those who have met Dean Barbour can say that he has gained the admiration of all by his friendliness and flashing Scotch humor.

COLLEGE OF ENGINEERING COMMERCE APPLIED ARTS

ROBERT GOWDY

Dean

New Dean of the Engineering School is Robert Gowdy, a product of U. C. An interesting man, very popular with the alums and students of the school, Dean Gowdy has chosen as his goal a continuance of the ideals of the late Dean Schneider concerning cooperative engineering. Dean Gowdy is efficiency personified, but students know he is broadminded, and his keen and subtle sense of humor saves him from brusqueness. The Dean is addicted to books, guns, and music, but he has never dropped his interest in scholarship, despite his heavy duties.

GRADUATE SCHOOL

LOUIS T. MORE

Dean

Louis T. More, Dean of the Graduate School, is a man of wide interests. Although he is always busy with the administration of his college and is personally interested in each student, he has found time to write three books, and is now working on his fourth, The Life of Boyle. Dr. More is prominent in many Cincinnati affairs and his name is connected with many local organizations. He is a member of the Board of Directors of the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra, President of the Smoke Abatement League, and Vice President of the Cincinnati Institute of Fine Arts. His favorite subject, however, is the study of the philosophy of science.

TEACHERS' COLLEGE

LOUIS PECHSTEIN

Dean

Louis Pechstein, Dean of Teachers' College, combines with his highly practical ability to manage a college, a singular talent as a musician. Dean Pechstein's interest in music is deep, and his own talent as organist, pianist, and singer is, of course, far from meager. He is interested in educational advancement and represents his college at meetings of educational organizations. The Dean likes to garden, to fish, and to collect antiques . . . all merely as hobbies.

Dean

The College of Medicine has a new Dean in Stanley Dorst. Chosen this year to replace the late Dean Friedlander, Dr. Dorst continues to emphasize the interest of Med students in University affairs. An alumnus of the University of Cincinnati, Dr. Dorst follows all branches of the activities of the school, but he is especially interested in athletics since he himself once played in college sports. Dr. Dorst is efficient and able, yet in no way unapproachable. He likes classical music, and as another of his hobbies includes the study of period architecture.

HOUSEHOLD ADMINISTRATION

ELIZABETH DYER
Dean

Elizabeth Dyer is a progressive, intelligent leader in the field of Household Administration. She is well informed on social, economic, and political problems of the day. Besides her duties as Director of the School of Household Administration, Miss Dyer has many interests ranging from service in her sorority to work in consumers' group in Washington and in Cincinnati. She is also a member of the Cincinnati Board of Education. As far as Miss Dyer herself is concerned, poise, graciousness, and vitality makes her a popular figure in University circles.

STUDENT

The Student Council is the governing and coordinating body of the students of the University of Cincinnati. In contrast to the Tribunals which deal with matters particular to each college, the functions of Student Council concern the entire University.

The Constitution of the Student Council requires that Council enact legislation important to the general welfare of the student body, and, in addition to its regular duties, hold the annual University elections.

Specifically the Council allocates the Activity Fee Fund, which totals about $30,000 annually. All organizations drawing money from this fund are directly under the jurisdiction of the Student Council, and their constitutions are its by-laws. Moreover, Council requires organizations to toe the line financially, to prove constantly their worth to the undergraduate body, and to show that they merit continued support from the Activity Fee Fund.

Recently the Council established a judiciary, so that the governing set-up on this campus is now completely democratic, with legislative, executive, and judiciary branches. Over and above the experience obtained by the students in running their government, one of the most important functions and values of Council is the obvious benefit obtained by a proper and efficient control of student activities and funds.

WOMEN'S SENATE

Every woman student automatically belongs to Women's Senate, the governing body which has something to do with all women's activities on the campus. Among the many activities of the Senate are its luncheons, its Vocational Guidance series, the breakfast for Senior women, its governing of the Women's Dormitory, its careful supervision of the point system in regard to activities, and its maintenance of the Second-Hand Book Store, the profits from which go into a scholarship fund. The purpose of the Senate is to handle all problems arising on campus which do not fall to the Faculty or to the Student Council. Its ideal is to foster a spirit of fellowship and cooperation among women students. The Senate also sponsors Junior Advisers, the Vigilance Committee, and Wig-Wag.

MEN'S SENATE

Men's Senate is the policy-forming body which exists to coordinate those men's student activities which are not controlled by the faculty or the Student Council. Its membership includes representatives from all men's organizations on the campus and thus indirectly it influences all men's activities. The routine of directing Freshmen orientation, the Hobby Fair, and the annual Dad's Day is broken by an annual dinner at Dean Postle's home, and presentation of keys at the end of the year to deserving members.

APPLIED ARTS TRIBUNAL

Students in the School of Applied Arts are privileged to elect from their number each year a few individuals to represent them in a governing body called the Applied Arts Tribunal. This group of students then regulates the student activities of its own college insofar as it does not conflict with the wider jurisdiction of Student Council. Usually during the course of the year the Applied Arts Tribunal holds a dance, and during the past year it also sponsored a water color contest and a showing of motion pictures demonstrating dry point and water color technique, both matters of interest to students of that school.

ENGINEERING TRIBUNAL

The Engineering Tribunal is the student governing body of students in the College of Engineering and Commerce and it exists to represent interests of those students. It is limited in its control of student activities in Engine School only by the supervision of Student Council. Members of the Tribunal are elected by direct vote at the annual elections. In the year 1939-1940, the Engineering Tribunal, for the first time, sponsored the annual Engineers' Ball, and, with Ed Dinkelaker and his committee in charge, made a big success of the affair.

THESE ARE THE BUILDERS OF TOMORROW

Evelyn Cleaver and Jack Nolan

SENIOR CLASS

Upper-class elections caused a bigger furor this year than usual. The momentous day was November 20, and even the candidates thought that the next day would see the end of the matter. A new system of voting was inaugurated and, instructed by a representative of Student Council, students voted in larger numbers than in the past few years. Despite a valiant last-minute attempt to attract his classmates' vote, ~~Tommy Bruner, candidate of the reforming element of the population running under the auspices of the Campus Cleanup Committee,~~ went down to defeat. The first results were announced on November 21, and William Miller, Chemical Engineer, was elected President with Evelyn Cleaver as his vice President. But, lo and behold, the election was contested, taken before the Case Club of the Law School, and another set of results was given. In this tabulation Jack Nolan, Liberal Arts student was declared to be President of the Senior class and Evelyn Cleaver retained her vice presidency. This second set of decisions was not contested, although the student body accepted the whole matter with several grains of salt and a couple of lifted eyebrows.

SENIOR PROM

The Senior Prom, the last of the year's all-University affairs, was held in the Great Hall of the Student Union Building on June 1, a Saturday night. The committee of Seniors who planned the affair found it possible to make the dance free to all students and naturally a crowd took advantage of the opportunity. In the U. C. fashion, a band blared forth from the Grill as well as from the Great Hall, and a nickelodeon furnished all types of music for dancers and walkers on the Terrace. From the hours of 9:00 until 1:30 Seniors and other celebrants danced. Senior President Nolan and Vice President Cleaver led the formal Grand March, and following them was a crowd of pleasure-seeking students. Many Seniors were half sad, however, as this dance marked the end of school and its associations for them. Few, however, were of a philosophical turn of mind during the dance. The Prom was, by all reports, one of the best-managed affairs of the year, and the energetic committee responsible for the Seniors' last fling deserves congratulations for its good work.

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS

(Elections)

Junior Class officers were Dorcas Marohn, Liberal Arts, president, and Robert Schultz, College of Engineering, vice president. The general elections were held on November 20, but after the results had been made public, the election was contested. The whole matter was referred to the Case Club of the Law School, and on December 14, the officers were named. Student Council accepted the reproof of the lawyers in good spirit, and by unanimous vote approved the final report.

An interesting side-light in the outcome of the Junior elections: in the first set of decisions, Schultz won the presidency, Marohn, the vice presidency. At least those two can be sure they were the two most popular people in their class!

WE NOMINATE OUTSTANDING JUNIORS

JUNIOR PROM

Mayor James Garfield Stewart
proclaims Virginia Ficks Queen of the 1940 Junior Prom. . .

On Saturday, February 24, 1940, a crowd of 1200 U. C. swing fans danced to the music of Jan Savitt's Top Hatters at the annual Junior Prom held in the Florentine room of the Hotel Gibson. Savitt, direct from a year's engagement at the Lincoln Hotel in New York City, brought with him his "scat" vocalist Bon Bon and the Quintones. His famous Shuffle Rhythm, which has placed him among the first seven bands in the country, won acclaim from the crowd.

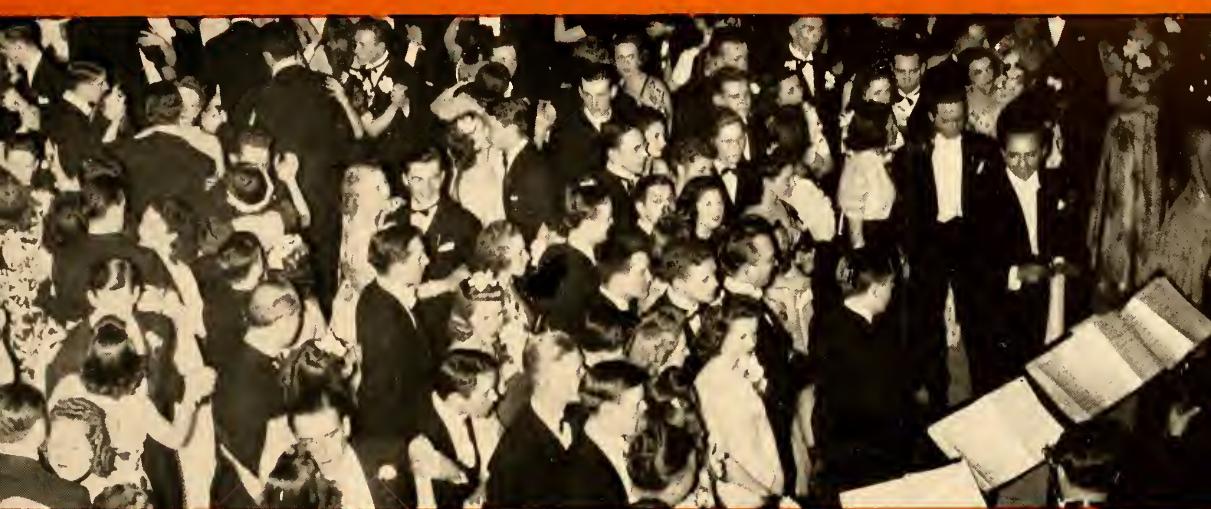

The Florentine room was attractively decorated with draperies of red and black, the school colors, and U. C. shields and pennants lined the walls, creating a truly collegiate atmosphere for the important function.

The highlight of the evening was the election and crowning of the Junior Prom Queen from candidates representing the various sororities and independent students on the campus. Fifteen of U. C.'s loveliest co-eds competed for the coveted award this year.

Virginia Ficks, vivacious candidate of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority, was the lucky girl who was crowned queen shortly after midnight amid the lusty cheers of an enthusiastic crowd. Miss Ficks, escorted down the white marble stairway by Mayor James G. Stewart, was followed by six Freshman Prom Queen attendants in the procession during the ceremonial.

Miss Ficks wore a sparkling crown upon her head and a long regal cape, trimmed in white ermine, while her escorts, resplendent in formal attire, carried bouquets of red roses. She was introduced by Mr. Charles P. Taft, City Councilman, who presented her with a silver loving cup.

Sophos, freshman-sophomore activities honorary, announced the pledging of their men for the coming year.

1. Every Prom begins with a corsage.
2. Exams are forgotten as they leave for the Prom.
3. Fair lady alights at the Gibson door.
4. A chat with the chaperons.

5. Shuffling to Savitt's smooth rhythm.
6. Table talk for two.
7. Alas, the Prom is happily ended.
8. No copy needed here.

WE NOMINATE OUTSTANDING SOPHOMORES

JANE KLINE

Women's sports editor of the Cincinnatian and prominent in the Y. W. C. A.

JEAN RITTER

Hard worker on the Cincinnatian staff and famous in the Y. W. C. A.

SOPHOS SWING

Right: victorious "Dea".

The first affair of the 1939-1940 social season was the Sophos Swing. The crowd flocked to the Great Hall of the Student Union after the U. C.-West Virginia football game to dance to the music of Ray Pearl and to select a Freshman Queen. Fourteen of the best looking girls on the campus awaited the announcement of the new queen's name, and each girl's friends waited just as breathlessly.

At twelve o'clock the new Sophos officers were announced, and immediately thereafter, Dean Arthur Postle presented Dea Anderson, Chi Omega—the new Freshman Queen. Theta Phi Alpha's dynasty ended; Chi Omega's smiling Queen Dea reigned. The committee in charge were: Victor Majoevsky, Russ Hill, Mac Benedict, Ed Wurster and Ed Dinkelaker, chairman.

Sophos—Men—Organized in 1931, this local activities honorary society recognizes and honors outstanding men of the freshman class.

In the past year Sophos gave the first major dance of the year (Sophos Swing) and honored a freshman girl (Dea Anderson) with the prom queen title. This organization promoted school spirit by establishing a freshman cheering section at the varsity football games.

Sophos also furthered Freshman-Sophomore relations by a number of closed functions. Sophos has established a scholarship fund to be given to the University when a sufficient amount has been accumulated.

ALPHA LAMBDA DELTA

Alpha Lambda Delta, honorary scholarship sorority, was founded at the University of Illinois in 1924 and was established here at U. C. in 1931. The purpose of the sorority is to stimulate the desire for study, and to encourage the maintenance of high scholarship and academic leadership among freshman women.

STORY OF A FRESHMAN

Do you suppose Registration Day is the best "Welcome to Old U. C." that they could devise? That matter of giving all the innermost details of one's life is hardly a warm greeting. Remember those blanks? The fellow who brought a rubber stamp with his name on it was smart. By the time you get down to testifying as to your religion, you feel a strong urge to confess to Druidism. Dad wouldn't believe you could spend money so quickly as you pass it over the cashier's desk. And this has to be done every semester, too! After you finally satisfy that righteous upper classman at the door that your blanks are satisfactory, a medical examination is in order—you don't know whether to walk erect or crawl over the campus.

But the best is yet to come! The Union is the place to go—everyone says so—but the Grill is so crowded, and all those people milling around outside the Grill door seem to know each other so well! That old feeling of insignificance creeps up on you.

You, in your innocence, haven't the foresight to see that soon you will "belong". You, too, will win friends and find a place to sit in the Grill. Time changes all, and think what your attitude toward next year's crop will be! Be brave, Freshie!

PHI ETA SIGMA

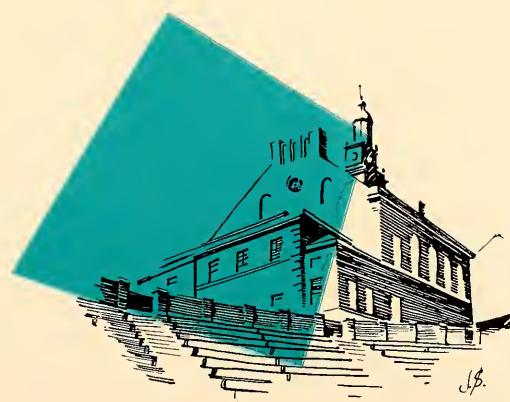

Phi Eta Sigma, national freshman scholastic honorary, established its chapter here at the University in 1933, just ten years after its founding at the University of Illinois.

With a two-fold purpose—to recognize scholastic achievement during the first year in college, and to promote fellowship and interest in current problems among members of the organization, the group has actively been making strides towards attaining its ends.

The 1939-40 pledge class included the following men: Charles Barger, Charles Boegli, Harry Brede meier, Melvin Cox, Robert Goldhoff, Joe Gump, Walter Griest, Robert Jones, Joe Levine, David Lipsich, Albert Meyer, Bernard Niemeier, Louis Payne, George Pow, Sidney Rindberg, Robert Ramey, Edgar Steinau, Carl Schneider, Rudolph Schneider, Robert Toepfer, James Wichman, Sam Willis, Robert Winston.

Officers for the year were: Bernard Niemeier, president; Louis Payne, vice president; Rudolph Schneider, secretary; and Sam Willis, treasurer.

BOOK TWO---ATHLETICS • • •

As '40's spectators it is really unimportant to us whether the University sanctions "Big-time Athletics", or whether the policy of the school is more conservative. We sit on the sidelines from September to June, cheer loyally for the home team, and ask only that we may be proud of the team which represents us . . . they need not be champions, but they must be doing their best every step of the way.

And for the rest of us who play for the fun, for the exercise, in intramurals, and in minor sports . . . we, too, think athletics are important, and we show our interest by participation in all sports sponsored by the school.

ATHLETIC ADMINISTRATION

The 1939-1940 sports program for U. C. was, on the whole, creditable. A growing spirit of confidence in the administration of the Athletic Department was combined with renewed expectations of a bigger and better record in each sport. Satisfied with the showing of the football team in its season, the coaches were so optimistic regarding our chance to meet big-time competition successfully that they signed contracts with some of the big schools of the country for the coming season. Friendly cooperation between players and coaches was the general rule in all sports. Our basketball team had to start from scratch, as the new coach, Ballard, had to shape his team without the aid of the stand-bys and star lettermen of former years. Baseball never seems to attract the interest of the spectators, but Coach Bonar worked hard with those boys who did turn out for the team. Johnny Popov remained the star of U. C.'s swimming team—he's matchless as a diver. The minor sports—golfing, track, tennis, fencing, and gym, saw few records broken, but neither was the season a failure. Women's sports, since they are preeminently for competition between classes, are not publicized so much as are men's, but if the enjoyment of the participants is the measure of success, women's sports are always assured of support. As far as intramurals are concerned, the usual tong spirit prevailed, and many boys who would have remained undiscovered responded to the program of the intramural division of the Athletic Department.

Undoubtedly our showing could have been better, but the outcome was satisfactory to participants, coaches, and spectators. The perennial promise of a better year next year means something, too, since the school has begun to attract talent of the athletic type. We're by no means ashamed of our record in 1939-1940, and we mean business in 1940-1941.

FIGHT! FIGHT! FIGHT!

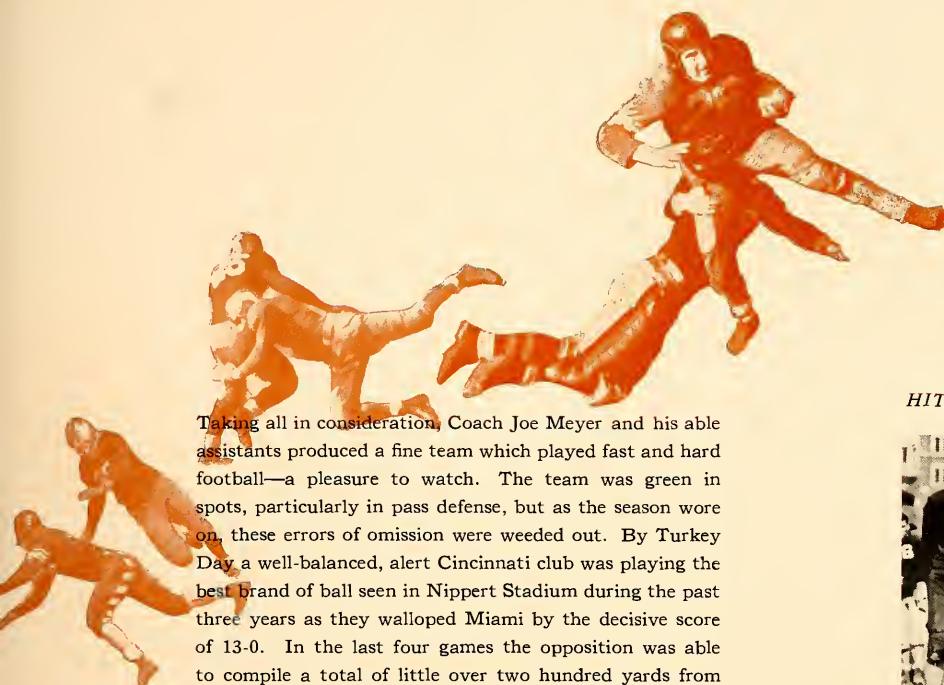

To summarize the football season at the University of Cincinnati for the season 1939-40 is a task which should be attempted only by the individual. A record of four victories, three losses, and two ties was neither an outstanding record nor a poor one, but it marked a definite upward trend in football at the University of Cincinnati. Accustomed to seeing Cincinnati teams take defeat after defeat on successive Saturdays, the Bearcat followers were absorbed this year in the development of a hustling young squad that would represent Old McMicken in the next few seasons.

Steeled by the fine conservative playing of such regulars as Popov, Capelle, and Kelchner, serving their last season, a team of sophomores was sent on the field in every game to seek victory for U. C.

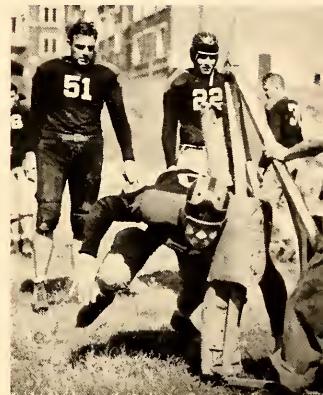

THE MARCHING RED AND BLACK

LIGHTS

HIT LOW AND HARD

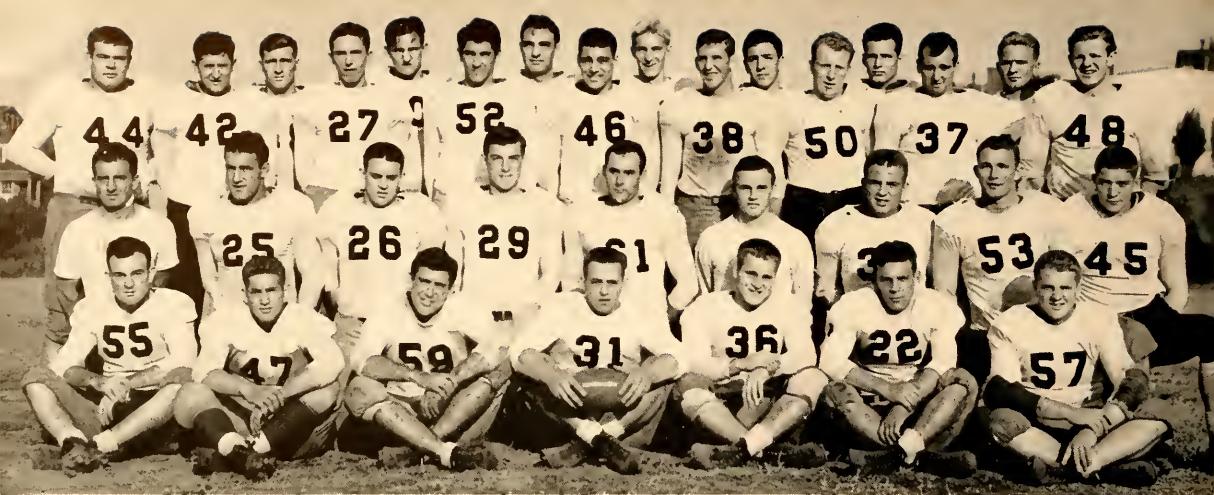

Taking all in consideration, Coach Joe Meyer and his able assistants produced a fine team which played fast and hard football—a pleasure to watch. The team was green in spots, particularly in pass defense, but as the season wore on, these errors of omission were weeded out. By Turkey Day a well-balanced, alert Cincinnati club was playing the best brand of ball seen in Nippert Stadium during the past three years as they walloped Miami by the decisive score of 13-0. In the last four games the opposition was able to compile a total of little over two hundred yards from scrimmage against the U. C. forward wall. If this is any true indication of the Bearcat football squad's strength, next year we are fairly certain that Carnegie Tech is in for a busy afternoon some time in October when Messrs. Coyle, Sauer, Virgin, and Company, meet the Scots in Nippert Stadium.

FOOTBALL SEASON

Two very green teams opened the 1939 football season in Nippert Stadium. The Bearcats, led by Dufford and Dixon, won by the most impressive score of the whole year. The Tampa squad proved to be big but slow, and the Cats ripped large holes in the forward wall for Dufford, sophomore half-back, to squirm his way through. The game was marred by numerous fumbles by both sides, proving that the Cats were jittery and needed more experience in the big time.

U. C. 2 DAYTON 32

Although this score was sadly one-sided, it did not give a fair picture of the game at all. Playing a typical Cincinnati-Dayton game, the Bearcats were leading at the half, as in the previous year. However, the Flyers came back at the Bearcats in the third quarter to live up to their name. Dayton literally filled the air with footballs tossed by two great ball players, Marre and Paluzzi, scoring twenty-six points to smother the Cincinnatians. Unfortunately the Bearcat defense cracked and time after time U. C. men were "sucked" out of position as "snowy" passes soared over their heads to be converted into touchdowns. By far, the most outstanding Cincinnati player was tough little Tommy Lonchar, who led the U. C. offensive deep into Dayton territory several times before he was carried off the field.

U. C. 0 WEST VIRGINIA 7

The Mountaineers of West Virginia roared into Nippert Stadium with the intention of ripping the Bearcats to pieces. The Cats, however, presented a much more formidable defense than in the previous week at Dayton and refused to be pushed around. Coach Meyer evidently believed in the old football adage—"the best pass defense is to rush the passers," for on one occasion the U. C. team-wall pushed the Mountaineers back some fifty yards in three plays. U. C., however, lacked the scoring punch on one occasion and missed the "promised land" by six inches. This was, by far, the best game the Bearcats played all year, but it was doubly costly as Lloyd Brown, sophomore quarterback, was carried off the field with a broken leg.

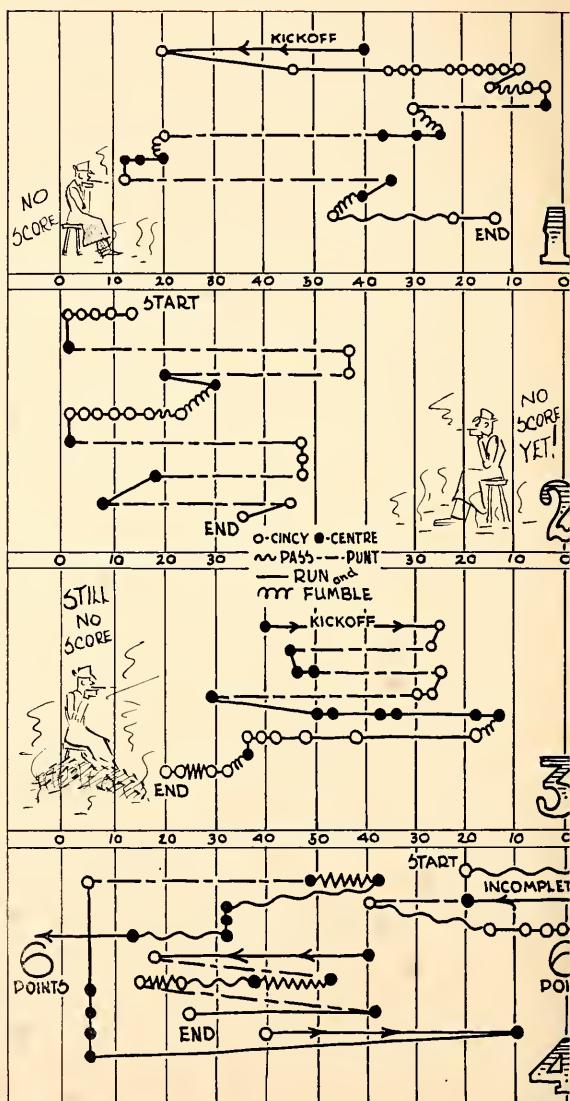

Centre came to Nippert Stadium for Homecoming Day with a wonderful turnout by a large number of grads. This was the most exciting game on the Bearcat schedule. Although Centre was completely outplayed, the fighting Colonels managed to keep pushing the Bearcats from the goal line. There was no spectacular play until the fourth quarter, when U. C. scored a touchdown, as the ubiquitous Dufford hit the line to make the score 6-0. On the following kickoff Centre's great fullback, Johnson, ran the ball back to the U. C. eight-yard line. Centre completed two beautiful passes and scored. Since both conversions failed, the score was tied. A few minutes later the game ended and 12,000 stunned fans filed their way out of the stadium, still half-believing that U. C. had won 6-0.

U. C. 13 MIAMI 0

This was the game toward which both teams pointed throughout the season. Miami brought a squad to Nippert Stadium which had compiled its worst record in years for the Oxford school. U. C. started fighting early and scored in the second quarter. Later John Popov scored the only touchdown in his career as a Bearcat by driving over tackle, a fitting finale for his years of brilliant ball-playing on the team.

Smith Capelle also bowed out gracefully by spending his entire afternoon in the Miami backfield, to the disgust of the Redskins. Undoubtedly U. C. would have experienced no trouble running up a larger score against the poor Indians had it not been for the extremely mushy field which looked like a freshly plowed farm after the game.

The 'Cats traveled to Detroit to engage a mediocre Wayne University eleven. The U. C. forward-wall functioned to perfection as Malloy Dixon and Johnny Popov, playing as he did in his first year on the Varsity, ripped through the line for sizeable gains. Outstanding defensive player was Smitty Capelle who made a pest of himself as far as Wayne was concerned, in tackling the backfield. It was a sweet victory, marking the beginning of a better brand of football, much to the gratification of Bearcat rooters.

U. C. 0

WESTERN RESERVE 0

The third and last game of the year away from home was played in Cleveland in a sea of mud. It was a moral victory for the Bearcats who had been beaten into submission in two previous years by the Redcats. Time after time Western Reserve struck at the U. C. goal line only to be thrown back by a determined Cincinnati line. Lonchar's beautiful kicking of the mud-soaked ball kept our boys in the ball game. U. C.'s scoring opportunity came in the first half when the 'Cats marched to the Reserve twenty-four-yard line only to lose the ball on downs. The game was marred by injuries for both teams and was played in an uninterrupted downpour of rain. The 'Cats returned home a much smarter and more confident team after this scoreless tie.

DAD'S DAY

The Bearcats completely outplayed their Bean-town opponents, yet found the final score gave the game to the Terriers. U. C. failed to supply the much-needed punch although they outgained Boston four to one at the scrimmage line. Two quick thrusts by Boston scored 13 points, one on an eight-yard run by Cassidy, the other a long forward pass for a gain of sixty yards by Powers. U. C.'s only score came after a sustained march in the third quarter. Jud Hall, the Arkansas boy, playing in his first game since the Western Reserve battle, played brilliant ball. Tommy Lonchar made the single Cincinnati tally. It was just another one of "those things," as the U. C. team couldn't find itself and push across that last stripe. The boys did deserve a much better fate.

U. C. 6 BOSTON 13

The Coyotes of South Dakota, erstwhile champs of their own conference, and bearers of a fine pre-game reputation, were sent out of Nippert Stadium on the short end of a 13-0 score. U. C. played fine, heads-up football, both offensively and defensively. Two South Dakota fumbles brought about the Westerners' downfall as Cincy's Tony Macikas recovered on both occasions. A short pass was ruled complete because of interference and brought about the first score by Dixon. Lonchar's driving run off right tackle resulted in the next score. Macikas played good football throughout the game as did the rest of his sophomore cohorts in the line.

BASKETBALL SEASON

Faced by the almost insurmountable task of replacing such '38-'39 basketball heroes as Kamp, Iliff, Biedenbender, and Capelle, Coach Clark Ballard nevertheless turned out a fighting aggregation that broke even in sixteen starts against intercollegiate competition.

Ballard, who replaced "Rip" Van Winkle as coach of basketball, deserves much credit for the 1939-1940 season's record, which can be termed fairly successful. Starting the season with five lettermen, of whom only one, Jucker, was a regular last year, and beset by enough ineligibilities and injuries to overwhelm the average mentor, Ballard commanded the respect of his men at all times and instilled in them the true fighting spirit that has always marked Bearcat cage squads.

1. Trekking to South Bend for the season's opener against the powerful Notre Dame five, the Bearcats emerged on the short end of a 54-17 decision; this game clearly marked the greenness of the squad, as Cincy was outclassed all the way.
2. Returning to their lair at Varsity Gym, the 'Cats clawed out a 33-18 verdict over the Georgetown Tigers in the first home game of the year. Red Powell and Frank Wones led the attack—the former with four buckets from 'way out.
3. The second road game turned out to be the second defeat, as the Red and Black fell before the Hanover hoopsters 57-41. Sophomore Ted Deskins bore the brunt of the attack, pouring 19 points through the hoop.
4. Three days later the fighting Bearcats turned in one of the most stunning upsets of the season by trouncing the highly-touted Kentucky Wildcats, Southeastern Conference champs, to the tune of 39-30. Hardly conceded even an outside chance to win, the 'Cats, sparked by the great play of Jucker and Deskins, came from behind to win in a romp—the loss was the first incurred by the Wildcats on their home floor in many moons.

5. Back on the home floor, the Red and Black found its second consecutive taste of Kentucky competition to be a bit easier as Centre bowed to our boys by a 42-30 tally. Playing under wraps, the 'Cats, led by Dalton and Deskins, made it 3 for 5.

6. The Wilmington Quakers brought an impressive record with them as they invaded the Bearcats' home floor—this wasn't enough, however, as the 'Cats won in two overtimes, 40-36. Huheey and Dalton came through in the clutch to aid the cause, and Wones and Deskins split 20 points.

7. In the first game after vacation the Toledo Rockets came to town and went to town to spill the up-and-coming Bearcats 42-35. Gerber, 6-foot, 4-inch Toledo pivotman, proved too much for our boys as he tickled the twine for 20 points. Captain Jucker paced his mates with some spectacular shots to tally 14 points.

8. In the next home fracas the Miami Redskins, traditional rivals of the Red and Black, emerged victorious by the count of 49-42 in a sensational game which saw the 'Cats, ever striving to knot the score, thwarted by Miami's George Rung, All-Ohio guard, who enjoyed a fat last-half as he hit for 18 points in this canto. Deskins and Jucker were the big guns for Cincy.

9. The Alumni team conspired to drop the 'Cats for their third straight loss on the home floor 41-38. Kamp, Iliff, Austing and Summerville led the old grads while Jucker again paced his mates. King and Sternberg of the reserves showed flashes of form.

10. The Bearcats snapped their three-game losing streak and, at the same time, gained revenge by drubbing Hanover 43-31 in a rough and tumble affair. Jucker, Deskins, and Friedman hit well . . . McCardle was outstanding defensively.

11. The second encounter with Wilmington resulted in another overtime win as Coach Ballard's dribbling dervishes eked out a last-minute 38-37 decision. Deskins with 14 points, followed by Huheey with 9 points, paved the victory trail for the Bearcats.

12. Resuming hostilities with the Akron Zippers for the first time since 1925, the Bearcats banged out a 48-31 verdict on a foreign floor . . . Jucker and Deskins hit for 14 and 11 points.

13. With Jucker and McCardle nursing injuries, our boys trekked to Athens and fell before a strong Ohio U. team 60-48, with the 'Cats wilting in the final stanza.

14. Again on the road, this time to Dayton . . . our boys started slowly and dropped one 42-36 to the Flyers. Deskins again led the attack . . . aid from Powell.

15. Returning to the U. C. "field-house", the Red and Black evened it up with Dayton 41-31 as the 'Cats led all the way. Friedman and Deskins split 28 points, Jucker hit for 10.

16. Bearcats met Ohio U. on the home floor and were humbled again 60-37, as the Bobcats tallied 40 points in the last half. Jucker and Powell starred for Cincy . . . Deskins, injured, was lost for the rest of the season.

17. Our boys closed the season at Oxford and again lost to Miami. Crippled by injuries, the 'Cats tried hard but lost 42-31. Captain Jucker hit for 14 points in the final game for the Red and Black, and although Red Powell fought all the way, the Redskins were not to be denied.

BASEBALL

Despite the return of only two lettermen, the 1940 U. C. Baseball team developed into a powerful aggregate. With Smitty Capelle on the receiving end, few runners were able to crash their way home. The infield was ably protected by veteran Johnny Huheey and the slugging Ray Ford, while the first baseman, Walter Portune, snagged pegs from all spots of the field. Captain Bob Kocher paced the outfield and allowed few left-field hits to get by him. Out in center, Chip Galinari, former Walnut Hills High star, gave strong support to the pitcher. The team was mostly made up of sophomores. Their immediate clicking shows evidence of the fine coaching job done by Coach "Bud" Bonar.

TENNIS

Faced with the possibilities of accumulating a fine record, the tennis team played its longest schedule in years. Led by sensational Bill Talbott, the squad shows promise of blossoming into an outstanding court team. Paced by Talbott, the team should "suit up" with Hopple, Zimmerman and Dunbar in the first four seeded positions. Ably coached by Charley Bringham, the netmen will oppose no less than twelve different teams in four states. Noticeable on the schedule are the Big Ten colleges, Ohio State and Indiana, who have presented splendid teams consistently for years.

SWIMMING

Inspired by the records of their predecessors, this year's edition of U. C. Tankmen endeavored to better all previous records. The success of the team was but mediocre, however, inasmuch as the squad met several of the strongest tank teams in the Mid-West. Popov, Smith, Plettner, Walker and Fessler had their best years as members of the squad, and Bausewine, Heuck and Thomas showed so much promise that the team for next year promises to surpass the efforts of this year's squad. Outstanding in this season's record was Popov's completion of three years of intercollegiate competition without losing a diving match.

TRACK

Inasmuch as the Cincinnatian went to press before the track season was in full swing, the results compiled by this year's aggregation cannot be listed. However, all indications seem to point to an even more successful season than that enjoyed by last year's squad which emerged victorious in the majority of the meets.

With Chick Mileham returning as coach, the fighting Bearcats were well directed this year for they were fortunate to have as another tutor, Frank Wright, ex-Washington University acemiler, who knows the cinder art from all angles.

The team at an early glance seems to be well-rounded, with lettermen returning in nearly all events. Much hope will ride on the flashing spikes of senior Jack Courte, who makes a habit of winning the high-jump, broad-jump and both the high and low hurdles. This four-star ace will undoubtedly mean the difference between a mediocre and a highly successful season. Other potential point-winners are quarter-milers Holleander, Foster, Stridsberg, and Irwin; dash men White, Austin, and Doerner; distance men Jones, Corbitt, and Alexander, with Smith Capelle expected to hold down both of the field events. Along with this nucleus are several likely-looking sophomores who will seek to earn their laurels.

FENCING

Fencing, one of our strongest minor sports, was greeted with more enthusiasm this year than has ever been evidenced before on the campus. Dr. Hutchinson, who has so splendidly coached U. C. foil and sabre teams for years, presented an array of brilliant matches both at U. C. and away. Leading the squad were returning lettermen Bacon, Stroud, Brown, and Sable, while newcomers Zimmerman and Berkowitz filled in the vacant positions. The results of the season showed an even break in the matches played—five won and five lost.

RIFLE

The baby of Intercollegiate sports at U. C. got off to a slow start this year but towards the latter part of the year the members of the squad seemed to find themselves and proceeded to fire constantly good scores. Coached in the fundamental positions, prone, sitting, kneeling, and standing, by E. T. Miller, the squad shot quite a few commendable meets. Bulwarks on the team were Ritche, Gebhart, Schreiber, Miller, Gram and LePoris.

Golf coach Whaling used a squad of eight men this year, four of whom were returning lettermen. An eight-match schedule arranged on the "home and home" basis was played and at the time of publication had met with mediocre success, sporting one victory and one defeat, being washed out twice by rain.

Back from last year's squad were Captain Jack Wood, Jack Morewessel, Bob Waxman, and Dick Renneker, all lettermen. Supporting them and playing their first year on the squad were Ray Gunn and Jack Martin.

GOLF

Intramural Manager, Kenny Heuck

The largest and by far most active intramural sports program was carried on by the men of the U. C. campus this year. The various groups of over thirty teams struggled and strained for the much-sought-after Intramural All-Year Trophy. Never had interest been so high, competition so keen and enthusiasm so evident as in the competitive sports of the past semesters. Credit for the success of this banner year should be attributed to the splendid work of Linus Haby, intramural sports director, and his able student assistant, Kenny Heuck. We sincerely commend these two for their untiring efforts.

Phi Delta Theta opened the program with a bang by capturing the major sport, touch football, eliminating Sigma Chi in a surprising runaway fashion in the playoff. Led by Bob Dalton, the Phi Deltas pulled a sleeper pass on the first play, with Faxon receiving and going over for the touchdown. The ball was put into play by the Sigs and on a pass play, the ball was intercepted and run back for another touchdown by Jim Freeburg. The score remained at 13-0 the rest of the game.

Horseshoes filled the air for three solid weeks in the fall, and after this period, Steinforth (Beta Theta Pi) emerged with the singles championship and Dawson and Wolfe of the Tau Deltas seized the doubles title.

Swimming was snared by the Beta tankmen, who nosed out Phi Delta Theta in the final event of the meet with a beautiful four-man relay.

Handball was run off immediately after Christmas, producing new champions. Rick Crane in the singles and Crane and H. Crane in the doubles division were victorious.

INTRAMURALS

Volley Ball was finally completed after much controversy, which will not soon be forgotten. After Delta Tau Delta had won the event there was an unfortunate revelation that an ineligible man had played, and so the games were played over again. The boys of the "Sacred Shelter" established their superiority on the courts by again winning the championship and the cup.

Basketball was clinched by the "Stadium Rats" after the boys from the concrete playhouse had humbled the defending champions, the Betas, in the finals.

Boxing produced five new champs in the manly art: in the 125-pound class, Lavercomb (Beta); 135 pounds, Harrington (Sigma Chi); 145 pounds, Speigle (Y. M. C. A.); 160 pounds, Ross (Triangle); and 175 pounds, Walker (Pi Kap).

Bowling, the largest and longest event of the entire program, was won by Phi Kappa after defeating Delta Tau Delta.

Water basketball, the toughest sport of them all, was taken over by the bruisers of the Stadium after a strong fight was wagered by the Phi Deltas in the finals.

Track was run off in rapid order as the Stadium Rat speedsters, led by Smith Capelle, ran well ahead of the pack to tack on plenty of points to their impressive total.

There are still a number of events to be run off yet which will undoubtedly decide which team will emerge victorious, and it is therefore impossible to decide the winner at this time. The leading contenders for the cup at this time are Beta Theta Pi, Delta Tau Delta, Phi Delta Theta and Sigma Chi.

CLUB

The Undergraduate "C" Club is composed of wearers of the "C", the tested athletes of various U. C. sports. It is an organization which promotes friendship and comradeship between our athletes, but it also has a more general purpose—to arouse U. C. from its lethargy and make it support the school's athletic programs. Thus, one of the aims of this undergraduate branch of the "C" Club is to claim the support of the student body by proving that athletes are worthy of all the aid they receive. Fifty-eight athletes are connected with the Varsity "C" Club, and they co-operate 100% with their officers.

SPORTS SUMMARY

It can be truthfully said that this has been The outstanding year in the last five for U. C. athletics as a whole. Football stole the spotlight as the grid squad showed definite signs of regaining power on the striped field. Basketball slipped a little due to the graduation of many of last year's squad, which compiled an all-time record in games won for a U. C. cage team. Tennis, golf, baseball, and swimming, all considered minor sports, presented an array of fine results in games. Scheduled with the best competition in this section of the country, rifle, fencing, and gym produced more than satisfactory results in their competitive sports. However, the most important team from the average student's viewpoint was the splendid manner in which Intramurals were managed. The participation in all sports this year was immense, and U. C. climbed to fourth place in Intramural ranking in the U. S. colleges due to the extensive program provided by the Athletic Department.

Intercollegiately, we see U. C. climbing into national prominence in the public's eye; while thru Intramurals, we see a peak reached in the physical development of all men undergraduates at the University to-day.

Thus we close a splendid year in athletics as a whole, which saw U. C.'s name spread far and wide due to the unfaltering efforts of the athletic administration, coaches, teams, and last, but not least, a rejuvenated student body.

WOMEN'S ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The Women's Athletic Association promotes sports for women at the University. Every woman student belongs to the Association, but it is necessary to earn fifty points by participating in sports to gain active membership, which grants the privilege of voting. Numerals and a "C" blazer are awarded to girls receiving a certain number of points throughout the year. In addition, a "C" ring is presented each year to the girl who best fulfills the Association's idea of an all-round girl.

In addition to hockey, basketball, baseball, swimming, archery, volley ball, badminton, tennis, fencing, rifle and golf, the W. A. A. sponsors the Inter-collegiate Play Day and the Greek Games.

PLAY

Play Day is one of the most important events in the W. A. A. program. Each year co-eds from Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky come to U. C. for the hilarious festivities and contests staged during the day.

Walking through the women's building, usually so quiet, one hears the bugle call. Then the halls swarm with crowds of girls hurrying to play basketball, badminton, or any one of the many sports offered.

The festivities reach their peak at the supper, when all the colleges co-operate in giving skits to increase the merriment which this day of competitive sports has produced.

8. Dean Ingle Welcomes Visiting Co-eds.
9. A Fast Race Gets Under Way.
10. Throwing The Quoits.

WOMEN'S

"BULL'S EYE"

ARCHERY

Noch, draw, aim, and release, arrows whizz through the air to land finally with a thud; the girls rush to the target to find the shaft half buried in the straw—if they are lucky. This old sport attracted many co-eds slightly daunted by a more active sports program. Even the weather is enticing, for the sparkling dry fall days and fresh Spring days add to the sport. Every afternoon of the season, girls were seen hitting—and missing—the target, Robin Hoods, every one of them, or active Maid Marianas.

BASEBALL

With mud not dry from the first Spring rains but with the sun bright and cheerful overhead, the girls ran to meet the call of the great outdoors at the first baseball practice. Throughout windy March slush, warm April breezes, and hot May days, whether catching flies, striking out, hitting home runs, or sliding into bases, they enjoy themselves. These active sportswomen even overlook straight hair, dirty faces, and broken fingernails in their search for exercise and fun.

GREEK GAMES

For twenty-two years Greek games have been held on the University of Cincinnati campus. This traditional competition between all Freshmen and Sophomore women was dedicated in 1940 to Artemis, patron goddess of the moon and the forest. On a brilliant night early in May, the outdoor theatre, lighted by gleaming torches, resounded with soft music, and once more the ancient Greek spirit lived for a night in a modern world. Hundreds of girls took part in the colorful fire-lighting ceremony wherein the torch of tradition was passed on by alumnae to the present contestants. The Greek chariots were rolled into action and were driven by co-eds in flowing Grecian attire. The freshmen, led by Mary Ann Nenninger, and the sophomores, led by Dorothy Rempe, entered into action wholeheartedly.

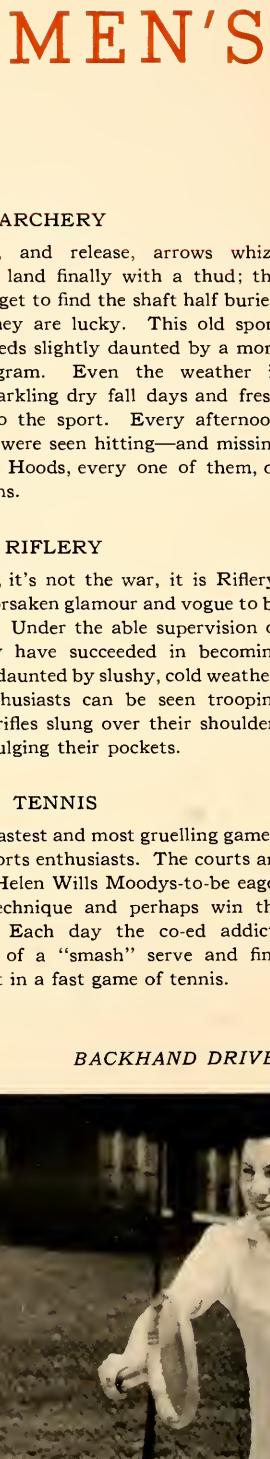

DRAWING A BEAD

BACKHAND DRIVE

TENNIS

Tennis, one of the fastest and most grueling games, is the goal of all sports enthusiasts. The courts are always filled with Helen Wills Moodys-to-be eager to perfect their technique and perhaps win the tournament cup. Each day the co-ed addicts thrill to the hum of a "smash" serve and find enjoyment and zest in a fast game of tennis.

SPORTS

"LOOK OUT FOR SHINS"

BADMINTON

Badminton, the infant of W. A. A. activities, has attracted much attention from girls of all colleges. Those who have neither the time nor the desire to enter the major sports events find outlet for excess energy in hitting the little feathered bird over the net, singly or in pairs, either for the glory of winning the tournament or for the pure fun involved.

FENCING

"En garde!" The fencing season began with much enthusiasm for the saber and foil. The tournament was an advantageous moment for the girls to show their cat-like agility. The team also enjoyed having several bouts with outside local groups.

BASKETBALL

Go on and shoot! This isn't the rifle range but just what one might expect to hear upon entering the women's gymnasium during an exciting basketball game. The season was most successful and ended in the usual manner with the All-Star-Alumnae game. Honor team awards were made at the winter sports banquet amidst a chorus of "ohs" and "ahs" at the announcement of the names. It seems to an observer that these girls have discovered the real way to have fun. Perhaps they lose their decorum but they find real excitement in the game.

HOCKEY

Smashed shins, the whack of balls on hockey sticks, frostbitten hands—all are the results of duty on the hockey field. The invigorating fall days were the setting for many exciting clashes between the embattled amazons. The girls saw the jousts come to an end with much regret, but were happy to receive their awards for excellence in technique, ability, and spirit.

PENGUIN CLUB

Mermaids splash in the cool blue-green of the pool, showing their aquatic ability. In co-recreational swims and swimming meets, the penguins demonstrate agility in graceful swan and jack-knife dives, in the perfect form of their strokes, and in the speed of their crawls and racing backs. Characters from fairyland and fiction decorate each water pageant. These girls take to the water like ducks, exhibit swimming prowess, besides having a wonderful time.

BOOK THREE---40's EXTRA CURRICULAR

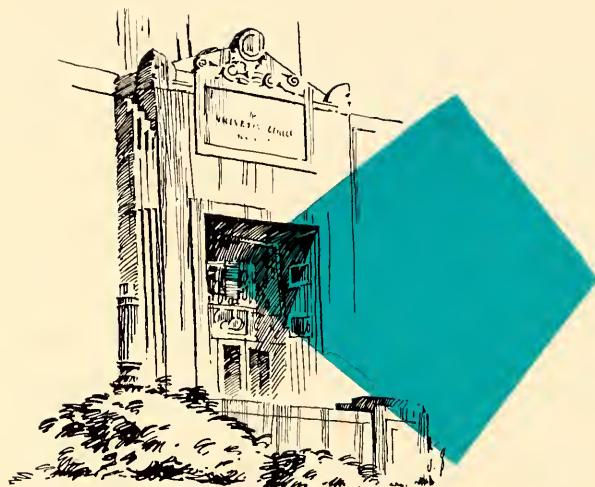

All those things you do for relaxation and fun in your extra time at school—work for the Mummers, in the Band, in the Vanities, on the publications, and in military organizations—all these are included in the term "activities". The large number of students on our own campus who join in activities is proof enough that classes alone do not give us the experience we should gain from our years in the University. We suggest that education means learning to get along with others as well as it does formal learning.

From activities we learn to take responsibility, we enter into pleasant associations, we learn cooperation, and we have fun. Extra-curricular activities emphasize the adjustment of each of us to our social surroundings. This spirit of cooperation may well be called the spirit of '40.

RECORD

● Progressiveness was the key note of this year's News Record. Besides a switch to a streamlined make-up, the editors and staff put out a number of special feature issues. A homecoming edition for the Centre game with articles by U. C. gridiron heroes of other years, a green-inked Christmas issue, the Sadie Hawkins Day dance, a ten-paged spring fashions issue, and the April Fool edition (which met with much praise) were features of the year's program.

Busiest days in the News Record's week are Mondays and Thursdays, when Staff members converge in the editorial offices on the ground floor of the Union to "bat out" an assignment, to read copy, to write headlines, or to get the editor a cold "coke" or an aspirin.

The business staff hums then, too, as advertisers are phoned, copy is picked up, and the dummy layout is made. However, the paper isn't completed just that quickly. The editor and one or two assistants spend Tuesday and Friday afternoons in Cheviot, where the paper is printed, reading proof, and making up.

"Then the presses roll—a week".

Climaxing its publication year, the News Record was awarded the All-American rating by the Associated Collegiate Press—the first time the newspaper has ever received this highest award.

BEARCAT

MAGAZINE

The Bearcat, official publication of the Undergraduate Letterman Club, is a comparatively new campus magazine, for it was begun in 1938 as an outlet for the enthusiasm of the athletes themselves, and as a medium for arousing school spirit. Welded into shape under Milt Garvin, first President of the "C" Club, the Bearcat has continued since 1938 to express the opinions of players, coaches, and alumni under the able editing of Martin Rosen and, at present, Dan Garvin. This little magazine makes its appearance quarterly and reaches students, faculty, and alumni. It is worthwhile and deserves the support of the student body, for it expresses the desire of the lettermen in all sports to improve the standing of athletics on the U. C. campus.

BOARD OF PUBLICATIONS

The Board of Publications of the University of Cincinnati determines the policies of the publications on the campus, outlines the requirements for the major positions on the staffs, and appoints the editors and business managers, subject to the approval of Student Council.

Members of the Board include the Vice President of the University, the president of Student Council, editors and business managers of the two major publications, and technical advisers appointed by the President of the University. This Board of Publications awards the honoraria fixed in the budget of the Board of Publications by Student Council.

BAND

A major attraction at football and basketball games, the Red and Black Band never fails to "deliver the goods" to the thousands of enthusiastic spectators. During the 1939-1940 season the Band has seen its "whirlwind" style of formation changes copied many times, but never has the exciting tempo of Cincinnati's maneuvers been matched.

Opening its 1939 season at Dayton, the Band's outstanding formation for the "Fliers" was an eagle which flapped its way down the markers. First appearance at Nippert Stadium the following week brought a show for the West Virginia "Mountaineers". The trip of the year, to Wayne University, was a memorable spot.

For Centre and Dads' Day, there were several special entertainment stunts.

November 11 brought the Boston "Terriers," and the U. C. Band responded with its own walking version of the terrier.

"Beer Barrel Polka" and a Band-made barrel rolled out for the South Dakota game. High spot of the formation was the scene in which bandsmen, simulating beer, flowed from the barrel into a stein.

The Miami "Redskins" were vanquished by the Band in a sham battle on Thanksgiving Day. U. C.-ites gave heartfelt thanks for a 13-0 win over the Oxford team.

Throughout the football season, the ninety-odd men who played during their school sections kept the band somewhere between 56 and 80 strong. Director Van Pelt's snappy formations, led by Drum Major Mart Scheider and Band Sponsor Nancy Schmid, were the best Cincinnati has seen. Mart's invincible stepping and twirling, coupled with Nancy's vivacity and charm, added much to the Band's appearance and morale.

In addition to the football and basketball games, the Band played for R. O. T. C. functions and various special celebrations on and off the campus.

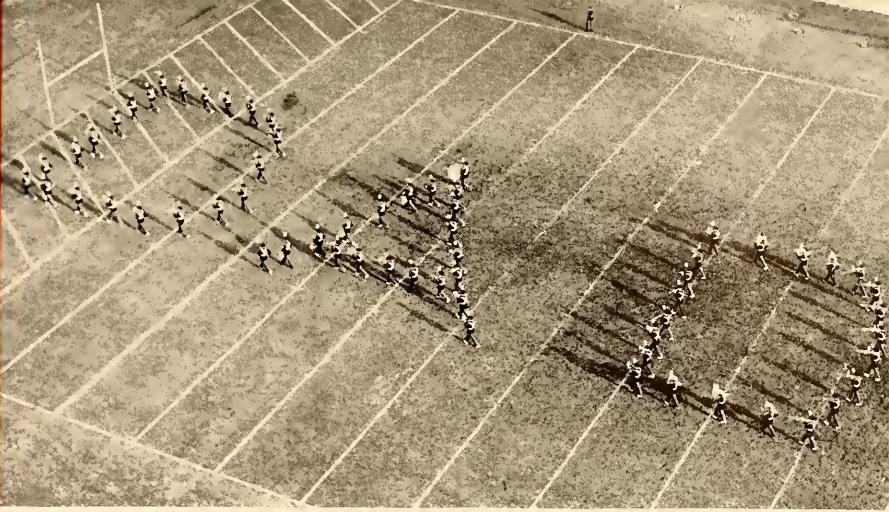

Hats off to Nancy, Mart, Van, Col. Anderegg, and their Red and Black tooters!

THE UNIVERSITY

The University Glee Club has had a busy year with concerts at home and in the East, which materially added to an already impressive list of achievements. This year the itinerary was as follows: Buffalo, Toronto; Canada, Lake Placid, Boston, New York City, Philadelphia, Atlantic City, and Washington. In Boston, the University of Cincinnati sang with the Harvard and Radcliffe Glee Clubs.

The chorus is known as America's "outstanding college chorus," according to critics and laymen. Members of the chorus are selected by the director from a huge list of applicants from all colleges of the University. While very few have studied voice, all possess fine natural voices. Three rehearsals a week weld this group into a fine ensemble which annually presents three oratorios and a miscellaneous program.

Mr. Sherwood Kains, the able director of the Glee Clubs, has been acclaimed as one of the outstanding younger directors of today. The music of the great composers has long since been the rule in this organization, and Bach, Beethoven, and Brahms have become old friends. The spirit in the organization is such that the members reserve a warm spot in their hearts for the memories of the year round activities and the annual trips which firmly cement the bonds of fellowship. In addition to being classical and musical, the ties of fellowship are also very real and friendly.

UNIVERSITY ARTS

An organization bringing work and play to many is the University Arts Board. Since its conception in 1937, it has grown and flourished, imbued with the vigor of youth. Its branches, originally reaching fields of Art, Music, Literature, and Drama, have now multiplied, taking in Radio Work, Marionette Production, Creative Writing, Publicity, Photography, and Stage Craft.

The deep-rooted, solid foundation of the Board is the result of the excellent and continued work of the two faculty advisers, Dr. H. Kathleen Ressler, and Dr. R. C. Gowdy. Under their careful cultivation, not only have the main limbs grown and expanded, but many new ones have been added.

The Music department continues its two weekly programs of Junior Artists and Recorded Concerts and has added to its functions a recorded rental library and a music appreciation lecture series.

The Drama division is constructing a stage and a small auditorium in the Union.

The Radio Workshop, headed by Al Kline, was successful in securing a half-hour spot on WLW.

Photography, under Jack Weeter and Gordon Baker, gave instruction to between 30 and 60 people three times weekly in taking, developing, and printing film.

The Marionette group, directed by Jane and Lorraine Taylor, constructed and presented marionettes in a play written especially for this purpose by Saradelle Sadler, of the Creative Writing group.

Notes and Sketches, the weekly bulletin of the Arts Board, published by Myrl Ricking and her Creative Writing group, contained book reviews, and new record release reviews, in addition to the weekly concert programs and general Arts Board news.

The year 1939-40 has added another annular ring to the trunk of the Arts Board. From this trunk have sprung new branches, and the older ones have enlarged. New fields have been reached, new successes attained.

Thus, the Board, in accordance with its original purpose, now offers more and greater cultural outlet to any students interested.

MUMMERS

John K. Rose directed again this year . . . You Can't Take It With You was the season's first performance . . . John Matthews' "Grandpa" won the audience's heart, but Gracie Klein's toe-dancing was a scream . . . The News Record's Menderson had a walk-on part as a G-man—with a gun, too . . . and Dave Bierley learned to play the xylophone for his role . . . Our Town was the best Mummer production in years; the critics were sincere in their praise . . . Fred Rohrig, production manager, liked it because it required so little scenery . . . Thornton Wilder's play, Vera Bantz's "Emily", Dave Bierley's "George", and Abe Mandell's role as commentator were the highlights . . . we were proud of Our Town.

Opening night at Wilson was a new idea...modeled after the custom of the Abbey Theatre, parents and friends had tea and cookies with the cast of Bob Hill's play In Solveig's Love...Allen Brown finally succeeded in playing a juvenile lead...Marcia Doyle won most applause as feminine lead...Dark Tower was the season's last presentation...a Woollcott-Kaufmann production...melodrama with Jo Rule, Bierley, the ubiquitous Mandell, and Gene Elkus and his voice...crowds good...a good season as a whole...but no old-time Saturday night brawls, they say.

OFFICERS

We present five of the outstanding underclassmen in the R. O. T. C. The smiling gent at the top is Barry Stuhlbarg, newly elected captain of Pershing Rifles, and a junior in the Coast Artillery. Next, on the left, is Dick Tullis, just initiated in Scabbard and Blade, and a Pershing Rifleman. Next is Bill Young, Ordnance junior, and Scabbard and Blade.

In the center is Paul Menefee, second lieutenant in Pershing Rifles, member of Scabbard and Blade, president of the senior class and of the A.I.Ch.E.

At the bottom we have "Tiger" Pean, Ordnance, junior second lieutenant in Pershing Rifles, and member of Scabbard and Blade. Next to him is Walter Anderson, up and coming Ordnance pre-junior.

department is the other unit stationed here . . . Major Walters is faced with stiff competition: he's the only Ordnance officer here, while Major Higgins, Major Steward and Captain Strickland uphold the glory of the Coast Artillery . . . The latter is, of course, the best branch of the army . . . This year new equipment will be rolling in, in the form of anti-aircraft guns, a range finder, data computer and so forth . . . An armory is being built to house it.

The consensus of opinion gives Jo Ector and Dorcas Marohn top honors among the gals of the campus . . . Ches Dones, colonel of the regiment and captain of Pershing Rifles, toots a horn in the band when he has time . . . Stuhlbarg is new captain of Pershing Rifles and Scabbard and Blade.

Sergeant Joseph Middlebrooks expects to retire next year, after twenty years of service to the University and the R.O.T.C. . . . Four students have degrees from this school as a result of his aid, and many others have benefited from knowing him . . . A real loss.

Jo Ector, Kappa Delta, Applied Arts junior, elected honorary Lieutenant Colonel last Spring, received her commission as Colonel at the Military Ball; active in Guidon, and other military functions; and received the service medal from Pershing Rifles and Scabbard and Blade for outstanding work.

MILITARY BALL

Amid much pomp and ceremony, the annual Military Ball was held in the Great Hall of the Student Union on Saturday, December 16, 1939. Josephine Ector, honorary Cadet Lieutenant-Colonel was promoted to the post of honorary Cadet Colonel, after which she welcomed the Scabbard and Blade pledges. Colonel Chester Dones and Lieutenant Ralph Myers were chairmen of the Ball.

The highlight of the evening was the competitive drill by two R.O.T.C. units and the presentation of medals by Miss Ector to the winning platoon. Several hundred couples—the men in their trim uniforms and the ladies in their most feminine formal—danced to the music of Larry Smith and his orchestra.

The girls of Guidon, honorary auxiliary to Scabbard and Blade, made their first official appearance at a military ball, and their colorful and youthful uniforms won spontaneous acclaim.

KATHLEEN CUNDY

Guidon, the national honorary auxiliary to Scabbard and Blade, has taken an active and colorful part in campus affairs. This year one of the new and exciting innovations is the new uniform, designed by Kathleen Cundy, which emphasizes the society's colors, red and blue. The Guidon girls made their debut on the campus at the Home-coming game of last year, and since then they have appeared as color guard at all the football games. The girls also appear at all military functions, and march with the R.O.T.C. unit in parades.

To relieve the monotony of all work and no play, there are joint meetings and parties with Scabbard and Blade.

40's MILITARY DANCES

Cadet Officers' Ball

The annual Cadet Officers' Ball was held this year in the Florentine Room of the Hotel Gibson, on Saturday, February 10. Students in the advanced course of the University R.O.T.C. and members of the Officers' Reserve Corps of Cincinnati took part in the program. A company of Pershing Riflemen from the University put on a special drill manual during intermission, and awards were made to outstanding upperclass military students, with the girls of Guidon forming a saber arch for the presentation.

Cadet Lieutenant-Colonel Frank Schaf was the chairman of the committee in charge of the dance, aided by Colonel Chester Dones, Lieutenant-Colonel Ralph Myers, Sergeant Jack Wegelin and Sergeant Charles Kellogg.

Spring Military Hop

The Spring Military Hop, one of the most successful military functions of the year, was held in the Union Building, Friday, April 12, from nine till one. Dorcas Marohn, newly-elected Honorary Cadet Lieutenant-Colonel of the regiment, was presented to the members of the regiment by Jo Ector, Honorary Colonel. It was Miss Marohn's first appearance at a military function since her election in March.

Colonel Ector, aided by Lieutenant-Colonel Marohn, presented awards to the girls who were candidates for the position of Honorary Lieutenant-Colonel. An award was then made to Miss Ector for her outstanding service to the regiment. Awards were also presented to members of the R.O.T.C. who had distinguished themselves in military service during the past year.

The dance, sponsored jointly by Pershing Rifles and Scabbard and Elade, featured the music of Larry Pachoud and his orchestra.

Affiliated with both local and national Y. M. C. A. groups, the University Y. M. C. A. was founded in 1915. On the campus the group is an association of students, faculty, and alumni. The Y. M. C. A. attempts to encourage individual participation in student organized programs and has, at the present time, one of the largest university "Y" memberships in the United States. To the incoming freshmen, the "Y" offers the Freshmen Council. During the last few years, because of increasing interest, it has been necessary to establish a Sophomore Council. Students who show sincerity, initiative and qualities of leadership continue extra-curricular work in several fields as either members, committee chairmen, or officers on the senior cabinet.

The Junior Advisers are women who have been chosen in their sophomore year to conduct the Fall orientation program for freshmen women. They are selected because of their merits as personnel workers and leaders. In the Spring of their sophomore year, they go through a training period, and at the same time work out plans for the two-day orientation which takes place prior to registration. In addition, the topics to be discussed at the weekly meetings held throughout the first semester are decided upon.

There are approximately thirty advisers, and each has a group of about fifteen freshmen women. Besides the discussion topics, there is a planned social program, and each freshman has a personnel interview, the record of which is indexed in the Dean of Women's office.

The officers of the group include a chairman, and an assistant chairman. Dean Ingle guides and advises the work done by the advisers.

T. Menderson

The committee on General Social Functions serves the student body by giving or sponsoring all - University functions deemed desirable, by maintaining a calendar for the registration of social affairs, by including in the campus social program a series of inexpensive dances, and by providing information about social activities. Innovations this year were direct sponsoring of the Junior Prom, installation of an attractive calendar in the Union, a series of free afternoon tea dances, and purchase of permanent decorations for campus dances.

The Union Board, composed of four faculty and five student members, determines the policies governing the management of the Union.

Since the Union has taken its place as a center of student activities in 1937, the Board, in cooperation with the Supervisor and his office, has attempted to improve and extend the facilities offered to the Student Body.

ENGINEERS' BALL

ADA JANE MORRIS

- For the first time in its history, the Engineering Tribunal sponsored the Engineers' Ball. This year's event was held Saturday, January 20, in the Great Hall of the Student Union.

Frankie Trumbauer, famed for his saxophone and clarinet playing, led his band as they played the rhythmic tunes the swinging engineers and their dates enjoyed so much.

Fourteen candidates vied for the coveted honor of being named Queen of this Engineers' Ball. At the stroke of twelve, Ada Jane Morris, blond candidate of Kappa Delta sorority, was acclaimed 1940 Queen of the Quadrangle. Miriam Streicher, Queen during 1939, presented the cup to Miss Morris, welcoming the new Queen of the Quad.

SADIE HAWKINS DAY

Pig Catcher
Gets His Reward

On the first "Sadie Hawkins Day", Dogpatch Hollow moved to U. C.'s otherwise urban campus . . . That November 11th was really a leap year affair—the co-eds were supposed to find and reserve their dates in the Sadie Hawkins "catch as catch can" style . . . some of the best rags of the year turned out . . . Shelby Howard and Millicent Griffith had charge of this all-afternoon and evening affair, and they deserve some kind of bouquet . . . that greased pig competition was hard on the poor pig, and everyone in the stands wanted the pig to win . . . Dottie Rempe made a good Daisy Mae—tatters, high heels, and blond hair . . . a buffet supper and dance after the football game with Boston University made it a long, hard day . . . wonder what those Boston people thought of us? . . . it was surprising how many U-Cites came dressed like real Dogpatchers . . . rumor is that there'll be a Sadie Hawkins Day annually—not only was the affair popular, but it was a financial success . . . wonder if the girls really paid in coin of the realm, as originally intended, or was it really a L'il Abner Day?

UNIVERSITY DAY

Bacteria is on the slide

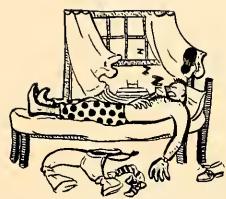

A new day on the Campus this year was Friday, March 29, when scores of High School Seniors were shown the Campus as those of Liberal Arts see it. A definite contrast to the technical exhibits of Co-op Day, University Day or Sub Frosh Day was a successful experiment which will no doubt be the starting point for many such days in future years.

DORMITORY COUNCIL

The Men's Dorm continued to prosper during the 1939-40 school year, and overflowed into the Stadium, where it housed twenty men. Elective offices enjoyed the efforts of a new political group, the Amalgamationists, the party placing in office President Krebs, Vice President Agostini, Treasurer Garrigan and Secretary Miller. A program of internal improvements and expansion of social activity was put into effect. The first dance was held at the Hotel Alms, and brought out such a record attendance that the next dance was more advantageously placed in the Sinton. The Dorm Hep-Cat Trio stole the show at the Vanities, and the Bearded Man Contest at the Boatride would have had trouble passing the adolescent stage had not the Dorm's Ohmart been present. Such unscheduled events as the early morning visit of a "roving beauty" gave the boys something to talk over in the Archway, and a tough proposition to explain at home. Dorm graduates, numbering near to forty, constitute a record class.

Tau Beta Pi, the national scholastic honorary society for engineering students, was founded at Lehigh University in 1885. Membership is open to all Junior and Senior Engineering students, and is based upon high scholarship, leadership, personality, and breadth of interest. The purpose of Tau Beta Pi is to sponsor the spirit of liberal culture among all engineering students.

Whew!

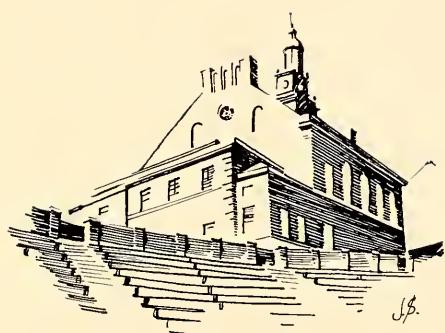

Page after page of organizations—aren't you tired of looking at them? Why not relax a bit here while we say a few words about the material that appears in this year's Cincinnatian.

The sketches of the buildings about the campus were done by John Schott, a junior in architecture who is destined for a real future . . . if you like the all-over pattern drawings on the division insert pages, you can credit Marilynn Stillings of Applied Arts . . . Cartoons on the sub-division pages were created by the flowing free-hand of Alice Magee, while Virginia Stifel brought forth the burst of figures on the inside cover page . . . lettering and layout work are second nature to Charlie Smith and Ray Cradick. . . .

. . . credit the many fine candids and group pictures to "Scoop" Baker, loyal staff member who came this year from Ohio U. . . . a major part of the sports section pictures were shot by Bob Kinstler with John Humphery and John Nash doing their share.

Incidentally, if you don't like the cover, you can blame Painter . . . he did it.

INTERFRATERNITY DANCE

The annual Interfraternity Ball was held on February 3rd, at the Gibson Hotel. Despite the fact that the place was overcrowded and there was no ventilation, everyone obviously had a very good time.

Jimmy Joy's orchestra succeeded in entertaining the large number of dancers milling around the band stand.

The Ballroom was decorated with fraternity insignia, as is the custom for the Interfraternity dances, and each frat had a table to itself. Most of the U. C. regulars were there.

INTERFRATERNITY PRESIDENTS' COUNCIL

The Interfraternity Presidents' Council functions to form a closer union between the fraternity and the University and to promote interests common to each. Included among the many projects which it handles each year are the Interfraternity Dance, the publication of Freshman Fraternity Hand Book and the Interfraternity Pledge Dinner.

The Signs in '40

When it came to campus honoraries and positions in activities, the boys were right there—had 19 men in the various places of vantage in campus politics . . . very successful social season, rush parties at the alum homes right through to record dances at the house, the Sigma Chi's were happy . . . won the handball trophies in intramurals . . . runners-up in football . . . Bud Mayer pinned Eleanor Conant . . . Jack Freitsch and Betty Rae Frommeyer off and on for four years . . . Sigma Chi's Johnny Griffith rates first with Band Sponsor Ann Hamer . . . Dick Scobell is president of the Applied Arts Tribunal . . . Dick Norton modeled for 'L'il Abner . . . Bob Baer divided his time between the "Y" and the Glee Club . . . Dusty Schluter is a jitterbug incarnate . . . Van Schoyck made the Junior Prom Committee . . . Hartman and Winkler go on . . . Bev speaks Spanish fluently, but can't understand a word of it . . . Kise likes to dance . . . Siebenthaler still likes Annie . . . Harpy's undecided but happy . . . Barry just fell down the steps again . . . Cleo's still their collective sweetheart.

The SAE'S in '40

The lion-guarded portals of S. A. E. swung open to welcome the Freshmen with a whirlwind of rush parties at Fischer's, Schott's, and on Gowdy's boats . . . the annual "Shipwreck Party" was at The Pines . . . Ann Rutherford visited the chapter and was presented with a sweetheart pin . . . many of the boys haven't got over her yet . . . Brother Spear amazed himself, S. A. E., the athletic commission, and everybody else by breaking the intramural record for high jumping . . . the Founders' Day Banquet, with Mayor Stewart as guest, closed the winter social season . . . Harold Vinacke made Phi Beta . . . Dick Canning made O. D. K. . . Vic Majoevsky still drives that big car . . . Mac Benedict looks like activity boy timber . . . Denny Nead performed again in the Vanities—he must be a wonderful date . . . Jeff Stridsberg graduates this year . . . Wes Newkirk's still around, tho . . . there was a big pledge class . . . those New Orleans Fisk boys look good.

Beta Theta Pi Enters A

HE HISTORY of the Cincinnati chapter of Beta Theta Pi is closely entwined with Beta's history and with that of Cincinnati's University, all three coming into existence early in the Nineteenth Century. The Cincinnati chapter, the Beta of Beta Theta Pi, was founded in 1840 by Thomas Boston Gordon, one of the original eight who had conceived Beta Theta Pi a few months earlier at Miami University; and had as its members students of the Cincinnati Law College, which was subsequently incorporated into the University of Cincinnati. Perhaps the discussion of such topics as "Should Public Morality be Regulated by Law?" and "Veneration for Antiquity" proved a bit too heavy for these pioneer Betas, for in a few years the chapter lapsed into inactivity. However, the existence of "Beta Prime", although short, firmly established Beta Theta Pi in Cincinnati and formed a solid groundwork for the re-establishment of the chapter in later years.

Beta Nu, formed from Chi Zeta Sigma in 1890, fell heir to the heritage of old "Beta Prime", and, hence, as its name signifies, it became Beta New. Beta Nu is now fifty years old, and in commemoration of this double anniversary hundreds of alumni gathered on the week end of May 17-19 to participate in Beta "dorg", dance, and reminiscence. With one hundred years of Beta tradition behind it, Beta Nu chapter is "Marching Along in Beta Theta Pi", eyes turned toward a new century.

The Phi Delt's in '40

The Phi Delt's completed a bang-up year of activities . . . rush parties taking place in Brother Crosley's box at the World Series were unusual . . . a fine class of freshmen pledged . . . the house dances, the Kids' Party, and the Spring Formal were especially successful . . . Bob Dalton played his last year with the varsity basketball crew . . . the frat as a whole did very well in intramurals . . . Jack Weeter was named Co-Editor of the Cincinnati—he's heading for medical college, too . . . the athletes of the chapter did very well for themselves, especially in football—Captain Bud Kelchner, Bob Bohrer, Fred Daum, and Bill Kelchner all saw action on the varsity team . . . Norm Hoover is a star of the Political Science department . . . Mire and Natorp are social lights . . . and nobody can ignore "Ham" Berger—he'll always "check back from time to time" . . . Stubby's still the same . . . Zepf's still steadyng with Irv, Boner with Pat, and Taylor with Millie.

The Delts in '40

The purple and gold shone brightly this year . . . the Delts captured the volleyball and horseshoe trophies in intramural competition . . . the social season went like this: Pledge, Christmas, Spring formals, football dances, old clothes dances, scavenger hunts, treasure hunts, bowling parties, and week-end parties . . . Ed Dinkelaker, Kenny Heuck and Joe Downey labor for the year-book staff . . . Charlie Johnson was on the Applied Arts Tribunal . . . Chum Klum, Senior Editor of the Cincinnati, pinned Mary Lou Rodenbeck . . . Sam Henney cartoons for campus publications . . . Al Farrell made the honor roll of Sophos, as did Walt Ismael and Dink . . . Jud Hall, Arkansas-born doorman in the Grill, was selected for Ulex . . . George Morton is Tau Beta Pi . . . Rick Campbell manages the University Bookstore, Ulex, and Sigma Sigma . . . Bob Brown suffers with math and Jinny Sinnm's latest recordings . . . "Tiny" Johnson presides over the Glee Club.

The Pi Kaps in '40

The Pi K. A.'s had a year full of fun . . . rush parties, hay rides, football games, dances . . . jam sessions led by D. Klep . . . Larry Pachoud's orchestra made its debut on the campus and was well received . . . light-heavyweight champ Rollo Walker kept in training by firing the furnace and did so well the school gave him a job at the powerhouse . . . Ed. Morris continued an old custom and won two more "Y" membership cups . . . section changes were marked by stag parties . . . Jess Wilson finally gave his pin away . . . Kreulen wouldn't mind giving his to a certain little jitterbug . . . Wilson and Odin (Don Juan) Wilhelmy pledged to O. D. K. . . Gordon Boling and Bill Willson pledged Sophos . . . the brothers built an addition onto the game room . . . Brother Moore rated applause for his three-minute part in "Our Town" . . . Chuck Leonard looms as an activity man . . . Rog Anderson and Kenny Ziegel both fathers.

The Phi Kappas in '40

The Phi Kappas did more than their share of entertaining when they were hosts to all Ohio chapters of the frat in April . . . a really worthwhile work the frat was rewarded for was their aid in a program of athletic training for underprivileged boys —the Fenwick Club awarded them a cup . . . the athletes of the Phi Kappas showed very well in the intramural bowling division . . . the boys scooped the rest of the campus by inviting the cast of the Varsity Varieties to a party at the house . . . the party was such a success that it will be an annual event . . . the fencing Mongans grace the roster . . . and Charley Grimm of the Bookstore Beau Brummels is an active member.

First row, seated, left to right: J. Binder, P. Bollettieri, J. Humphries, F. Rohrig, O. Sexton, E. Schroeder. Second row, standing, left to right: T. Johnston, J. Kittrel, S. Sardis, G. Clark, R. The Beta Kappas in '40

After a successful rushing season, the Beta Kappas launched themselves upon a program which brought them prominence in the eyes of their national officers—the Central Province Conclave was held here . . . the usual parties were held this year, including the Pledge Formal at the Hillcrest Country Club . . . Fred Brune and Ray Frey upheld the honor of the fraternity by becoming active Ulex members . . . Letterman Dick Powell, veteran of basketball and baseball, is a Ulex man, too . . . Rohrig was production manager for Mummers . . . Miller decorates the Grill . . . Kraske, Macikas, and Brown were footballers . . . the Beta Kappas had a nice float in the Homecoming Day parade, too.

The ACC'S in '40

One of the major events scheduled in the comfortable chapter house on Vernon Pl. was the Convention of the American Association of Commons Clubs during Christmas holidays. A banquet, followed with speeches by Dean Postle and prominent national officers, made the occasion well worth remembering. At the end of this celebration, a dance was given at which the pledges were introduced. A month later another banquet was given in honor of the new initiates. American Commons Club men are well distributed throughout the honoraries of the University, having members in Tau Beta Pi, Beta Gamma Sigma, Scabbard and Blade, and various other organizations.

Acacia in '40

The rather full U. C. season has been made even more so by the boys on University Court. The new Civilian Pilot Training program has kept two or three of the good brethren busy, while numerous house dances have livened up an otherwise quiet University Court. The acquisition of a new house mother has provided exceptionally homelike surroundings to the out-of-town boys, and if there are any complaints about growing waistlines it will be a tribute to her fine meals. Many posts in various campus activities are being filled by Acacians and, in addition, the roll books of various honoraries have on them the names of active men of Acacia.

PAN-HELLENIC DANCE

The Florentine Room of the Hotel Gibson was the scene of the Pan-Hellenic dinner and dance on Wednesday, May 29. The Greeks and their friends enjoyed the food and then danced to music sometimes torrid, sometimes sweet, until the wee small hours. This dance, one of the last social events of the year, was a big success, since all the pent-up spirits suppressed during exam week had their chance to come to the surface. The girls and their dates gave the evening over to swing.

The Tri Delt's in '40

This year they walked off with the "funniest float" award, using as props only some old clothes and a few battered washtubs . . . they boast of two of their members, Betty Bell and Jinx Moore, both Phi Betes and both honored by "Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges". "Paint Bucket" Pat Cleveland of the sparkling wit now has a ring to match—take it easy, Patsy . . . Little red-haired Clarkie's a whiz on skates—and on those Vanities numbers, too . . . Janet Whippy brings (surprise now) toy snakes to the Grill . . . Lois Eubank is President of the "Y," and her desk in the reserve room bears up nobly under a little volume entitled "Insect Behavior" . . . Peg Griffith and Pat Wallace have Phi Delt interests . . . Roberta Dalton is notably Beta-minded; Joanna Riley is a new convert to the diamond and three-star class . . . arriving on the Cincinnati scene from South America is Mary Ball, who has already made a place here for herself and her accent . . . Pat Kraft manages the Women's Senate Bookstore in the Union.

The Chi O's in '40

It's Monday night, and the house is packed . . . Claribel talks to Mrs. Banton about new curtains . . . Gravett raises Tye's two-bid . . . Dottie, the ravishing redhead, knits and talks to Marcia . . . Shiear and Betts glance at the latest Glamour, bringing up trivialities from time to time . . . Queen Dea's cup, finally engraved, decorates the mantel . . . prexy Poetker conducts an officers' meeting in the next room . . . Griff contemplates her 21st birthday, copy on "Socially Speaking" on her knee . . . Winkler is Sigma Chi sold, raving about Charlie . . . Castle's back in the fold, and the Wesleyan transfers are waiting for affiliation . . . Putty (Phi Beta), Tenner (Mortar Board), and Conant (also M. B.), the activity kids, talk the whole thing over . . . Gloria forgets fossils for a while and lectures on her old love—New Mexico . . . Julie's telling anecdotes about her first-graders . . . present as usual—Otting and Turrill, the debaters, P. Turrill, Schatz, Claire, Myrt, and Broedenfoerder . . . also, Doe Ahern, jitterbug ace.

IN MEMORIAM

Lord of the far horizons,
Give us eyes to see
Over the verge of the sundown
The beauty that is to be.

—Bliss Carman

Burtis Burr Breese
Glenn E. Cullen
Alfred Friedlander
Herbert D. Owens

We mention here with sadness the death of Frank Mawicke, April 11, 1940. He it was who painstakingly showed the student editors just how a year book is put together. A cheerful, helpful, and friendly artist, Mr. Mawicke's service to the book will not be forgotten by those who knew him and worked with him.

FIVE GOOD EGGS

We drop whatever formal style we may have had when we write this copy. Here are five good eggs who helped us with the book from beginning to end. Professor Geis, Financial Wizard, worked hard with Bill Cook on all details of Business Managership. Dean Holliday sympathized with our objectives and was a real friend and Editorial Adviser.

Walter Mason, the printer, always cool and collected, helped solve many a problem and always had a burst of wit to ease our worries. Bill Fruend, a fountain of knowledge about engraving, was an invaluable aid at all times.

Ralph Bursiek made it possible for the staff to work long after normal hours in the union.

Thanks to you, "Five Good Eggs;" we're sorry we can't give you orchids, but the budget says "no."

In case you're interested,
the eggs are as follows:

Just a word more...

as we finally catch our breath and relax while the presses roll out the 1940 Cincinnati to you. Here, on a warm June afternoon, life at the University goes on as on any day—students affected with spring fever pass on their way from the grill—outside a radio blares forth the news of another victory for the Reds. Girls in bright spring sweater and skirt combinations, and boys in tweed coats and flannel slacks, lounge on the steps of the Union. Yes, another year book is ready to catch dust on your bookcase. We hope you like our "Life Begins in '40" edition and it is our hope that your years after '40 will be pleasant ones.

ICE CREAM

JADED APPETITES . . . "Spring fever-ish" palates . . . spring quickly back to energy when you serve Nature's most delicious food-dessert.

PURE FRUITS blended with rich milk and cream and tantalizing ingredients produce the dish which appeals instantly to young and old.

NO DESSERT can take the place of Ice Cream at meals, 'tween meals or after meals.

To get the greatest enjoyment out of Ice Cream, use FRECHTLING'S SEAL-TEST Ice Cream—made in a model plant, and every ingredient thoroughly controlled by constant laboratory protection.
